

EXPERIENCE LEADERSHIP.

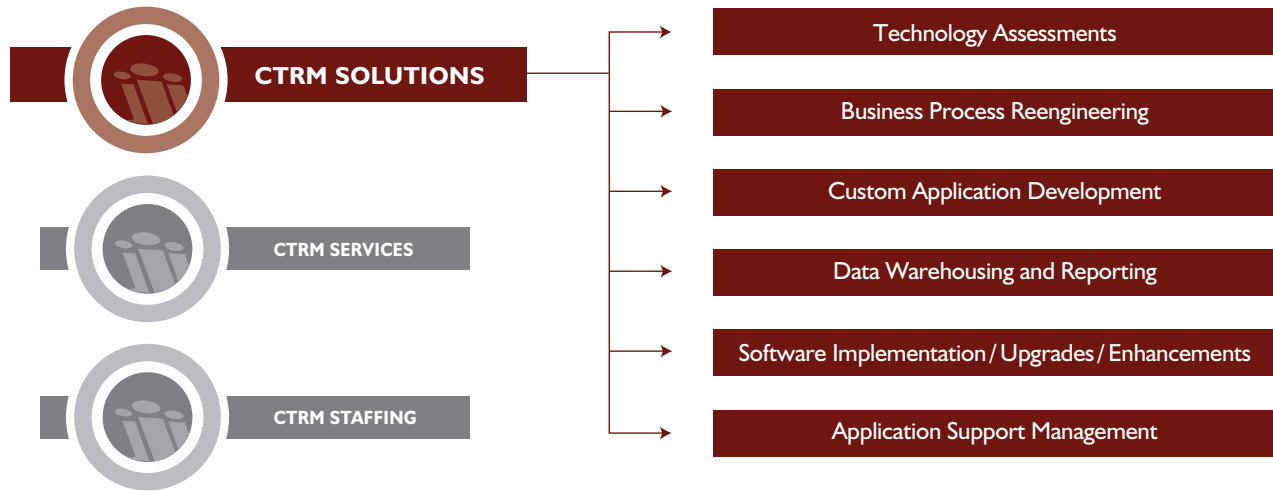

MRE Consulting is a comprehensive professional services firm that understands both business and technology. Since 1994, MRE has focused on Commodity Trading and Risk Management (CTRM), providing solutions and support services for over 200 clients across North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific.

Success depends on selecting the right partner. MRE employs a proven approach that is innovative and effective. Our philosophy is based on:

- Taking a long-term perspective
- Maintaining a client-first mentality
- Providing objective advice
- Building relationships with clients, staff and the community

One Firm. Multiple Capabilities.

Our capabilities range from strategic assessments of your entire company to management of specialized CTRM projects — all from a single source.

#1 in CTRM Consulting and Systems Integration.

In a recent survey conducted by CommodityPoint, a leading global commodity trading research and analysis firm, MRE Consulting was identified as the overall market leader among E/CTRM service providers.

Expertise on Demand.

MRE Consulting combines industry experience with market intelligence and a methodology that has proven successful across a variety of environments. Through our “One Firm” approach, you have access to expertise in multiple areas — from software selection to application support — from a single source.

As a vendor-neutral firm, we objectively assess your requirements and consider both commercial applications and custom options to determine the right solution for your company. Our subject-matter experts have deep knowledge of all major CTRM applications, and have completed numerous implementation, upgrade and optimization projects. Our custom development team is equally versatile, having designed and deployed software solutions that span different platforms and technologies.
